Marshall Teachers.

Their Institute at Moundsville Closed Yesterday—An Interesting Closing Day Programme—The Resolutions.

The last day's session of the Marshall county teachers' institute at Moundsville was a very interesting one. It opened in the morning with singing, "Work for the Night is Coming," followed by prayer by Rev. G. W. Grimes. "Definition of Education," by Professor Schaeffer, was the first subject of the morning. He gave his definition, in which he said, "Education consists in unselfishness of the will, and unselfishness of the mind. There are two kinds of memory—mechanical and logical. In childhood things are learned mechanically and in after life with the logical memory."

Mr. Trotter, candidate on the Republican ticket for state superintendent of schools, was introduced and made a short address. Virgil A. Lewis, the present incumbent of the office, spoke on "The Graded Course of Study." The teaching force of Marshall county contains some of the foremost teachers of the state," he said. Harry W. McCombs sang a very beautiful solo. Superintendent Williams, of Belaire, talked on "Psychology," after which the morning session adjourned.

In the afternoon the usual singing exercises were carried out and the roll called. "High Scholarship," by Dr. Schaeffer, was very interesting. He quoted as the greatest teacher of the nineteenth century, Pestalozzi, for whom a monument has been erected.

Following this came the closing scenes. Though tired, the majority of the teachers go home feeling that the week has been well spent.

The committee on resolutions presented the following, which were adopted:

"Whereas, It is necessary to order promote the general welfare of our public school so as to enlist the co-operation of parents, pupils and teachers in advancing the most important factor of our national economy, be it resolved

"First—That the county examinations for teachers' certificates should be uniform throughout the state.

"Second—That it is necessary in order to promote the educational advancement of our state to the highest possible advantages, that our next legislature should pass a law enforcing compulsory education.

"Third—That there should be a law providing free text books for our public schools.

"Fourth—That the salary of the county superintendent be raised to an amount that will justify him in devoting his entire time to school work, and that the superintendent be furnished an office at the county seat.

"Fifth—That our next annual institute be held during the last week in June.

"Sixth—That a board of five or more of the prominent educators of the state be appointed to revise our entire school law.

"Seventh—That the enrollment fee for our next institute be fixed at $1 or more, to be used in securing again men of national repute as our instructors.

"Eighth—That teachers are requested to interest their pupils in the study of birds and plants and that the pupils be taught to avoid cruelty to animals.

"Ninth—That we extend to Dr. Schaeffer our highest appreciation for his very able and learned, yet plain and instructive, manner in which he has discussed all topics this week; to Dr. Douthett, our own eminent West Virginia educator, we extend a similar vote; also a vote of thanks to those who assisted in our entertainments and the other exercises of the week, and to the people of Moundsville for their generous hospitality."

A committee consisting of J. K. Chase, J. T. King and Maude Jefferson, was appointed for the arranging of programmes during the year for the institute. Another committee consisting of D. T. Williams, J. T. King, David Bonar, J. K. Chase, James Rine and J. E. Sivert was appointed to make arrangements for the next institute.

The institute of '96 then adjourned.

TWO MORE PERFORMANCES.

Docket's Minstrels Reengaged for Tomorrow Afternoon and Evening at Mozart Park.

Docket's minstrels have made such a hit with the patrons of Mozart park and the amusement loving public of Wheeling, that the directors of that popular resort have secured the attraction for two performances to take place to-morrow afternoon and evening, and it might be added that immense crowds are sure to take advantage of this last opportunity to see the show. No performance will be given to-night, but to-morrow two will be given.

The engagement was to have closed last night and a very large audience assembled and enjoyed the wit and singing of the artists, of whom nothing but words of praise can be spoken. Tanager never appeared to better advantage while Burt Hart was received with thunderous applause. Dougherty's singing which is a feature of the first part, received two encores. The feat of the cast did well and were applauded and cheered repeatedly. To-morrow's crowds should break the record at Mozart park. The admission, including the round trip on the incline, will remain at 25 cents, with seats for everybody.

IN TWO STATES

The Wheeling Stockholders in the Brilliant Tube Works

TRYING TO UPSET THE ACTION

Of the Officers in Making that "Snap-Shot" Assignment—Injunction Granted and Receiver Appointed in this County and Another Injunction Given by Judge Douthitt Over the River—Edward Hazlett, of this City, is the Receiver.

The fight of the Wheeling stockholders of the Brilliant Tube and Pipe Works to knock out the "snap-shot" assignment of the company in the probate court of Jefferson county, Ohio, last Monday, is getting decidedly warm. Here in Wheeling, before Judge Paul, of the circuit court, the Wheeling people have secured an injunction, as detailed in yesterday's Intelligencer, and secured the appointment of a receiver in the person of Mr. Edward Hazlett.

Yesterday, at New Philadelphia, Attorney Dunbar, of Steubenville, representing the Wheeling stockholders, appeared before Judge Douthitt, of the circuit court, and secured an injunction similar to that given by Judge Paul. At the same time an application was made for the appointment in that court of a receiver, superseding the assignment, the judge declined to appoint a receiver until the other side is heard next week.

A telegram from Steubenville, received last night, tells of the action taken before Judge Douthitt. It is as follows: "J. Dunbar, who represents the Wheeling directors and stockholders, returned from New Philadelphia, yesterday afternoon, where Judge Douthitt granted an injunction in the case of Joseph Speldel, George K. Wheat and the Bank of Wheeling vs. the Brilliant Tube and Pipe Works, a corporation under the laws of West Virginia, J. R. Jackson, Thomas Hackett, W. R. Simpson, William F. Stifel, John S. McMaster and the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad Company, a corporation under the laws of Tennessee, restraining Joseph R. Jackson and Thomas Hackett from operating the works or disposing of any of the property, and that the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad Company be enjoined from moving any of the material alleged to have been purchased by them."

The petition recites that Speldel and Wheat have demanded a statement of the receipts and expenditures from Jackson and Hackett and have been unable to obtain the same and they have endeavored to have directors' meetings held but because of W. F. Stifel being in Europe and the said Joseph R. Jackson and Thomas Hackett refusing to attend a meeting of said board, the said plaintiffs have been unable to obtain a quorum. That Jackson and Hackett fraudulently and surreptitiously and without notice to the other members of the board and without authority have been shipping away the product of said plant, the material for use at said plant, and some of the machinery and material bought for use at the same; that certain rolls and carloads of scrap iron have been so fraudulently sold to the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad Company, with intent to prefer the said company as a creditor to the injury of the other creditors and the Bank of Wheeling and to the injury of the plaintiffs as holders of the notes held by said bank; that the Brilliant Tube and Pipe Works has been operated in full by said company ever since said company began operations in December, 1895, until July 3, 1896, when said mill was shut down by the said Jackson and Hackett, without direction from said board of directors. That Jackson and Hackett on the 3rd day of August, 1896, fraudulently and surreptitiously caused to be filed with the probate judge of Jefferson county, Ohio, an instrument of writing, by which they, the said Jackson and Hackett purposed to assign to John S. McMaster all the company's property; that the instrument was written without authority, consent or knowledge of the board of directors. That the said John S. McMaster, to whom such assignment was sought to be made, is the son-in-law of said Joseph R. Jackson, that he is wholly irresponsible, that said instrument was executed in the night, and filed with the probate judge at 4 o'clock in the morning and plaintiff alleges, on belief, that it is the purpose of said Joseph R. Jackson and Thomas Hackett, to have the said property sold, and that if said property be sold at the present time, it would entail a great loss to said company, and to the stockholders therein, and would work irreparable injury to the stockholders and creditors.

Last night the Intelligencer received the following from President Jackson, of the Brilliant works:

"There has been no ill feeling among the stockholders that I know of; no row about policy. I have found the members pleasant and agreeable persons to meet. The point was simply this, nothing more, nothing less: There was a $7,500 payment due on mortgage; the owners of the mortgage refused to extend; there was no money in the treasury to pay it, no money to continue business, so we concluded the only thing that could be done would be to quit. We put the works in the hands of an assignee to wind the matters up. I am about the heaviest loser."

The Camp Meeting.

The coming Moundsville camp meeting promises to be the best ever held on the old camp grounds. Bishop McCabe, the old war chaplain, will attract many hundreds, and Dr. J. W. Hamilton is a noted speaker. The beautiful grounds have been put in splendid condition for the season and nearly all the cottages are occupied. One of the important days during the meeting will be Epworth League day, on Tuesday, August 13. Leaguers from all over Wheeling district are expected to gather there and spend the day. Rev. M. L. Ganoe, of Altoona, Pa., the principal speaker of last year on the same occasion, has been invited. He made many warm friends last year by his magnetic power and Christian influence.

A Dog that Succeeded.

Yesterday afternoon a large New Foundland dog without a collar and evidently without a home, jumped off the suspension bridge and when he struck the water made no effort whatever to swim to the shore. Only a few persons noticed the strange episode and one gentleman who saw it says he is almost sure that it was a case of dog suicide. The animal had been running about the island all day and just before he jumped he had been down to the water's edge on the island shore, taking a drink.

They want a Flag.

The B. B. Doyener Club of the Eighth ward, is to supply its marching squad with a hundred red, white and blue lanterns. The club is in excellent condition.
